

SYNOPSIS: MARCH 30, 1998

“Allow the awareness of all attainments to emerge, experience your unshakeable stage (achal sthiti) and thereby become liberated in life.”

We are the extremely fortunate (bhaagyavaan) souls, children of the Father, the Bestower of Fortune (Bhaagya Vidhaata), who have a right to Godly sustenance, a right to the teachings of God, and a right to blessings from God, the Satguru.

1. From the form of the Father, we experience Godly sustenance, which is received just once throughout the whole cycle, through which we Brahmin souls experience being embodiments of all attainments. God's love enables us to experience all relationships, enables us to forget the consciousness of our bodies and also makes us forget all selfish love.
2. The Father becomes the Teacher and comes to teach us every morning. It is the study of just two words: Me and Baba. Call it the knowledge of all three worlds, knowledge of the cycle, the drama and the cycle tree - it is all merged in just these two words. Through this study, our mind and intellect become light and we experience the ascending stage.
3. From the Satguru, we receive such elevated directions (shrimat) that our questions of “What should I do? How can I continue? Should I do this or not? What will happen?” etc. all finish. The answer to all these questions is just found in the one expression: Follow the father! For your practical actions in the corporeal form, follow Father Brahma. In your incorporeal stage, in becoming bodiless, follow Father Shiva. To follow both Baap and Dada means to finish all questions and to follow shrimat. To become equal to the Father means to follow the Father. We receive blessings from the Satguru every day. We constantly keep the attainment of our fortune in front of us. We transform our sanskars of keeping everything merged and let this emerge in our intellect. When the list of attainments has emerged, no type of obstacle can attack us. All obstacles will simply become merged and our attainments will remain emerged.

The transformation of time is waiting for world-transformer souls.

1. The elements are invoking you souls who are masters of the elements, holding a garland of victory for you.
2. Time is holding the bell of victory and looking at you future world-sovereign souls to see when the bell should be chimed.
3. Devotee souls are also constantly waiting for the day when their worthy of worship, deity souls will become pleased with them and grant them the blessing of liberation.
4. Unhappy souls are calling out and wondering when the souls who are the removers of their sorrow and are the bestowers of happiness will be revealed.

Liberation-in-life:

1. Step away from everything in a second and become bodiless. This practice of the last moment will make you pass with honours.
2. Let the sanskars of liberation-in-life emerge from now.
3. Bring into your experience the sanskars of a constant and unshakeable yogi, constant karma yogi, a constantly easy yogi and a constantly liberated soul from this time.
4. Become liberated, become master bestowers and donate liberation!
5. Become souls who wear the crown of responsibility for world transformation and celebrate the coronation of your responsibility. Apply a “chindi (tilak on a chain on the forehead) and wear a golden chuni (scarf), a symbol of your golden stage. Keep them in your minds and awareness. To celebrate means to be responsible for the Father’s task. Therefore, become eternally co-operative.
6. Do not fluctuate! Remember: “My memorial is Achalghar (Home of Stability), not Halchalghar.” (Home of Fluctuation) Have the determined thought: It has to happen. Where there is determination, it is impossible for you not to have success.
