

Angelic Consciousness

Practical Course

Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University

Introduction

In the fast world that we are living in, these succinct texts are spiritual posts on an invisible blog. They are an incentive to take action for our spiritual benefit.

These glimpses onto the angelic life open up a window for the mind. Then, the mind can fly free, once again, and experience complete happiness.

It can be a word, an image, or a feeling that starts the transformation process from human into angel.

Each text is a living image, described in a simple, essence full way to create an experience. Together, all the posters create a powerful current that delivers a divine message.

God's vision is the Source of this current. It reaches out into the human hearts to uplift, to heal and to enlighten. God's message flows steadily into the depths of our minds and shifts our vision.

The reader understands that once they are starting practising each signal, the angel within is awakened in an irrevocable way.

It may feel like a tiny spark to start with, but many lights together create an energy that will eventually remove darkness on Earth completely.

Section one

Being ever ready

Be Like a Rocket

Whatever task remains to be done, who is doing it? God is the One who is doing it, through His human instruments. Therefore, we, the souls, can be ever ready to go home. When the signal is given to go home, am I ready?

“Last go fast and come first”. The souls who have come last are lights in God's eyes. God does not love anyone more, He loves all equally. These souls who have recognised the Supreme Father, some of them have the question “Why have I come so late?”.

God says “It is not too late”.

Make fast effort. Now, it is not even the time to fly, now it is the time to be like a rocket.

Practice: Now, in silence...with the mind, let your thoughts be like a rocket that reaches every soul with pure feelings and good wishes.

Renounce Body Consciousness

The sign of being ever ready is renunciation. Now, become a great renunciate. What is there to renounce? The consciousness of the body, the consciousness of the body's possessions and the consciousness of bodily relations. The soul renounces the consciousness of the old body. The body is not mine, therefore, is it difficult to renounce it? The body has been given for a task. If someone lives in a flat, and the owner asks them to leave, because that place is needed for someone else, they do that immediately. Similarly, this body is like a costume for the soul. Soul belongs to God and the costume is for God's task. If God tells the soul to leave the consciousness of the body because it is not their property, the soul can do that immediately.

Practice: Renounce the consciousness of the body in a second.

Father Brahma

Father Brahma, in the angelic stage, is ready to go home, waiting for the souls to be ready. Is the soul ready to go home with Father Brahma? It is not difficult, it is easy to go home with him. The soul wants to go home and for this, it pays attention to two things.

Firstly, the soul follows the highest directions at every step.

Secondly, Father Brahma paid attention to his thoughts, words, and actions. He knew that whatever he did, others would do the same. In this way, he became a sample.

Our thoughts can be pure, beneficial, and economical.

With our words we can encourage others, and see only their specialities. The soul can speak about their specialities.

In actions, be bodiless - become an angel. They will only see an angel.

The Love

All souls from everywhere have love for God in their hearts. Souls who recognised the Father have the desire to meet Him; they are thirsty to experience the meeting of love. They have love for God, for God's spiritual university, and for His task of transforming the world. In return for this love, they experience God's blessing of “Becoming complete and perfect”

The souls who have recognised God are like a big heart that beats for God and His angels. These souls have only the One in their hearts. They have love for their beloved Dadis (elderly sisters). Father Brahma was number one in their love. They all loved Dadi Prakashmani, who was an example for all. Dadi always followed the highest directions to the highest extent. She was always available to all the students. The soul follows the example of the Dadis. There is love for all the senior teachers and the instruments of this University. Love for God, for Father Brahma, for the Dadis, for the elevated family.

The Dadis had mercy for each and every soul. They would see everyone with love, they would always speak to everyone with love. God has love for each soul. Even for the youngest student, God and Father Brahma have love.

We can become like the Dadis, and be merciful towards everyone.

The Significance of the Bhatti

These souls have love for the yoga bhatti and they have love for God. However, sometimes they cannot forge a connection with God. Why is that? It is because during the day the thoughts are not concentrated (eknami) and economical. The practice of sitting in yoga is there throughout the day, but when the soul cannot always connect to God, it is because they did not use their thoughts with concentration and economy. They do not know how to use the power of thought.

The meaning of Eknami (concentration) is that you have only one thought. There is a story of a man who had only one thought, one aim, one desire. Because of this concentration he succeeded in whatever he did. Even important people, when they make a plan, they have one objective; they create one thought. Now, we can create such a determined thought and maintain it throughout the day.

The meaning of Economy is that we do not waste anything. Leave aside the physical facilities, where there should not be any waste, but there should also not be any waste of time and breath. There is the example of our dear Dadi Prakashmani: she never wasted time nor breath. Dadi never wasted anything, from nature or from other souls.

When the soul is eknami (concentrated) and economical, the power of thought accumulates, and the intellect will be able to take off during meditation. When a rocket takes off, it needs fuel that is triple refined. Without eknami and economy, the soul accumulates through daily practices, but then loses what it has accumulated.

This yoga bhatti is to pay attention to the power of thought.

What to do in the bhatti? Firstly, burn all traces of the vices. When someone puts something in a furnace, and closes the door, they can no longer take it out. They lock the door and it burns to ashes. Now put all the vices into this yoga bhatti, and burn them.

Secondly, we can give a message to the souls of the world that God has come. Not a single soul can be forgotten. They will see you, the souls, as angels, as messengers of God. Souls who are peace-less will receive the news that 'Our God is here'. They will be grateful and thank you for freeing them from

SORROW.

Three Types of Ego

Souls who are loyal, faithful, and dedicated to God's task, carry out His task day and night. They receive congratulations from everyone, and they become the first number in God's heart.

For each of us to become complete and to remove all forms of ego, we have to look at three type of ego.

Firstly, there can be laziness and carelessness in putting Godly directions into practice. Laziness in renouncing the subtle chains of “me and mine”. Carelessness in removing the desire for name and fame. There can be the lazy thought “when we know the final results, we will renounce the final forms of ego”.

Secondly, defamation of others in the mind. We may not speak negative words about anyone, but we cannot even think a negative thought about others. We are coming together into the age of truth, so we can see only the specialities of others.

Thirdly, disobedience. We know the elevated directions from God, and we listen to our seniors. Sometimes however, there can be one form of disobedience or another. The Supreme Father, the Supreme Teacher, wants each student to come first, so we can make effort for that.

Practice: For one month, write to God a short daily letter that praises the specialities of other souls.

Bestower of Mercy

One signal for the soul is

“Do not speak such words that would discourage a soul from coming closer to God”.

Our words can only give power to souls, now. Leave aside spoken words, not even in thoughts does the soul speak to another soul such words that will distance them from God. None should say in the future that through our words, they did not get the chance to come closer to the Supreme Parent.

Each of these souls is a golden chancellor, is he not? In the world now, souls are disheartened, they do not have power to hear any words that are correcting them. We can speak in such a way that gives them power and hope.

One practice for this is to become merciful. To what extent have I become merciful to each and every soul? Let there be mercy in thoughts, words, and actions for every soul. No matter what the thoughts or the intentions of another soul are, become merciful and fulfil the desire of that soul. God is the Bestower of Mercy, He has mercy on every soul, and He wants you, the soul, to show a complete, merciful form to the world.

Practice: Become a merciful bestower and give to all souls the light of powers, and the light of truth. Take a step towards showing the complete and perfect form of the soul to the world.

Specialities of the Sparkling Stars

The souls are the sparkling stars shining in the forehead. These stars are so beautiful, so bright. Some are shining with many colours, some have two or three colours, and some have only one colour. All the stars are very beautiful. The stars of the physical world are nothing compared to the stars of God's sky. The stars of the world are pale compared to these stars that are shining so brightly. The stars of the world are cold, whilst you, the souls, are sparkling in such beautiful, lively colours. The stars of the world are distant, whilst God's children are close to God.

What are the specialities of these sparkling stars?

Firstly, the souls are the stars of fortune. They are the fortunate, lucky stars who have found the Supreme Father. Compared to the wealthiest people in the world and the luckiest people, this fortune is so much greater. This fortune is for cycle after cycle, and it is not just for half the cycle, but for the whole cycle.

Secondly, these are the loving and lovely stars. These souls have found God, and they have love for the Supreme Father. They have filled themselves with Godly love. The loving stars are shining with so many colours. Some are shining with bright colours, some with one colour. The beauty of the colours is the sign of love.

Thirdly, souls are the stars of success. Some are bigger stars and some are smaller, but all are stars of success. Why is there a difference in the success that they experience? Firstly, all follow the highest directions, but some think that sometimes they can follow the directions of their own mind. They think “We follow God’s directions all the time, it is OK to follow our own directions sometimes. We are doing well anyway, what does it matter if only once we do what we want”. Secondly, they are not always honest with the Father about what has happened. They think: “Everyone is very busy now, we do not know to whom we should speak. So, it does not matter if we do not write to the seniors about what happened.” They do this sometimes. They are not honest. Thirdly, they keep something aside for later. They think: “We gave to God everything anyway, we should keep a little bit for ourselves, for when we will need it in the future”. These are the reasons why not all these stars are having the same success.

Fourthly, these are the stars of cooperation. All give their finger of cooperation. There is the example of the Dadis, cooperating with each other, like the beads of a garland. They used to think: “All for one, and one for all”. Dadi Janki inspired all of us to be so united and cooperative with each other.

Fifthly, these are the stars of happiness. Everyone is happy to see the stars in God’s sky, shining bright and happy. The happiness of these stars is lightening the sky so beautifully. The happiness of these stars is shining with so many colours that are creating a rainbow in the sky. There are rays of happiness spreading from these stars everywhere, to all souls. The whole sky is lit with their happiness. You can see how beautiful this sky is! You can see the rainbow of their happiness in the sky.

Sixthly, the stars of peace that are bringing peace into the world. Without them, there is no peace in the world. These stars are bringing peace to all the souls, they are making them content. They are the stars of peace and the stars of silence in the world.

Seven, the victorious stars. The victorious stars are sparkling so bright that their light is reaching out to the most remote star. Their light is so powerful and bright that it reaches to all the souls of the world and awakens them. Those who create a garland of victorious stars will be threaded in God’s garland of victory.

These are the specialities of the Godly stars.

Now, the new world is going to come and these stars, the souls, are coming into the new world. We can give the message about the new world to all. We can tell about it in such a way that others will be tempted to come. We can create good examples, in such a way that they are interested to come.

Someone is not interested when they do not know what they can do about that. Tell the souls what they can do to come in the new world. It should not be that they see that this is good for you, but that they cannot come. No, it should be that they see themselves that they can come. We can tell the whole world about the new world.

Position of the Lion

According to the time, souls have to become like lions and make themselves stable in the stage of being fearless. We remember our dear Dadi Chandramani, the Lioness of Punjab. She was like a fearless lioness and we are following her example. Souls are like the lion's cubs: when they are young they stay together, and when they grow up they can live on their own. Lions always live on their own. Check – am I like a lion, that can live on its own, or do I need company? Am I able to face any situation that may come? Lions are fearless, unshakeable, immovable. Adopt the position of the lion and give these vibrations to the whole world.

Practice: Make the mind completely stable, fearless, unshakeable, immovable. Let there not be a single thought or vibration of any other kind. Give the world the vibrations of fearlessness.

Section two

Personality of an Angel

The ABC of Angelic Consciousness

What is required for the angel to be awake? An angel is silent; the mind is silent. Sometimes, souls cannot silence their minds. Can the angel be awake if the foundation is not there? In anything, first learn the ABC, then go into more advanced subjects.

The first thing to learn is to control the mind; then the angel will be able to fly.

So firstly, make the mind silent. Can I slow down the speed of the thoughts in my mind? Can I create fewer thoughts?

Secondly, the mind can remain content. What is the sign of a contented mind? A contented mind is visible on the face. Humility and contentment are the signs of becoming complete and perfect. Being content with the self, content with others and content with the situation. When the soul is content in a situation, others will be content. Contentment is the jewel of all virtues.

Thirdly, a mind that has no desires. Check – do I have any desires? Father Brahma has become an angel who does not have any desires for himself. He used to say 'wherever you put me, whatever you ask me, I will do it'.

When the mind is silent, content, and without desires, the angel can fly. Ready to fly...

Practice: Create just one thought, and go into the experience of it. Every now and again, do this drill: make the mind completely silent for one minute.

Drop three things and take three things

We would like to make the mind silent, for the angel to experience the flying stage. However, why is the mind not silent?

What to drop

Firstly, there is the desire for name and fame. 'My name should be known in the world', 'they will recognise me one day'. Once the soul has recognised the Supreme Father and became a child of God, the Supreme Parent has written their name in His golden-book. So, why not drop the desire for temporary name and fame?

Secondly, there is the desire for future reward - wanting to get some result in the future for service done now. There are expectations. "The Father should give us a reward, a gift, in return for our efforts". God is giving a gift for service anyway. The desire for future reward is not necessary.

Thirdly, there are ill feelings from the past in the heart. Someone said something in the past, or they did something, and the soul has carried with them those negative feelings. It is good to drop those feelings now.

If these three things have been dropped, the soul can take three things.

What to take

Firstly, before the yoga bhakti ends, the soul can take a list of all the titles of respect that God gave her. God has given so many titles of self-respect. Take these titles.

Secondly, take the attitude of being double light. Become completely double light.

Thirdly, God gives His heart as a gift. Check - do I want God's heart? Take the gift of a clean and honest heart, like God's heart. Take these three things.

Practice: For one minute, make the mind completely silent...

Practise the angelic stage. Whilst the body is walking, talking, interacting, practise being in the angelic stage. We saw Father Brahma: he was in the angelic stage in his last period. The body had become a body of light.

The angelic stage means that the soul is completely detached from the old body, old personality, and old world. It is as if someone has died to the old role, and there is a new identity in that place. They have to die completely to everything that was in the old life. Not that they are dead for certain things, and not for others.

There is a story of a man who pretended to be dead. His neighbours were searching for him because he was in debt to them, and so he told everyone that he was dead. Then the neighbours decided to help him one more time - and to bury him! He woke up, and told the truth.

Check whether I am doing the same. Am I just dead to things I do not like, but not dead for things that I like? When the soul practises the angelic stage over a long period of time, the angelic consciousness becomes possible.

The Flying Hot Air Balloon

The flying stage is the double-light stage. Remain double light, and the soul will be in the flying stage constantly. If there is the slightest heaviness in the stage, it cannot be called double light, only light. If it is only light, then it is like trying to fly with one wing only. Both wings are needed to fly.

Why is there heaviness in the stage? Where is the heaviness coming from? There are small impurities that are coming my way, and they make the stage heavy. Because of this, I have to stop to remove the impurities, and make the stage double light again. The little things that pull us down come from looking at others. We start to check how others are flying. Instead of checking my own flying stage, I start to check others. “Why is that one not flying”, “What has happened to her”, and so on. We accumulate this weight by looking at others, and then the soul has to work to throw the weight away and make the self light again.

It is like a hot air balloon which is flying high, but comes down again and again because it accumulates weight which has to be thrown away. When someone is up and down, up and down, the feeling is not as nice as when they are constantly flying up high.

When the balloon comes down, they have to take off again. How does that happen? In a hot air balloon, they have to intensify the fire and make the air inside the balloon very hot, because that will take it upwards. What is this fire? This fire is attention. The attention of the soul is like a fire, very intense and concentrated.

The soul is paying attention to the treasures in the sky.

For this, the soul has received the gift of the divine intellect.

With the divine intellect the soul starts up the fire of attention.

With the divine intellect the soul sees things that are far away, as very close. When something is at a distance and cannot be seen clearly, one cannot pay attention to it because of not knowing what it is. That is why people wear glasses: to see better what is what, and to be able to pay attention to it. When something is at a distance, people use binoculars to bring the image close. Then they feel that they can recognise it. The divine intellect works like the binoculars: it brings close what is far, and the mind can see it better.

With a divine intellect the soul can see the character and nature of what they will be in the future. The soul can see clearly the nature of the deities, and experience the treasures of 21 births in heaven.

With a divine intellect, the soul can experience the subtle region, and the gathering of angels there. The soul understands the secrets of the subtle region, and recognises the angelic form. A divine intellect can see the difference between the present form and the perfect form and through that, the soul comes closer to the perfect form.

With divine sight, the soul can see the way God sees. God can see the current, effort-making, Brahmin form, the perfect angelic form, and the future deity form.

With a divine intellect, the soul understands the methods God is giving. A divine intellect can hold the method, so as to transform the personality of the self.

We can understand a divine intellect allows the soul to light the fire, to pay attention to the sky, and to fly.

God is making the soul fly

Practice: Check that the flying stage is stable. Make the mind silent for one minute.

The soul is using the divine intellect to fly. Why is there fluctuation in flying? One reason can be because the soul is trying to fly and also help others fly. What is happening when someone does not know how to fly, and they try to help others? Both will crash. The soul is trying to help others fly, and then both come down. First, we can learn to fly well, and then help others to fly.

When someone has to fly, they have to keep a balance.

On one side, there is a stage of lightness and being completely detached.

On the other side, there is the discipline, the concentration of the intellect.

If there is no balance between the two, the soul cannot fly. One moment it goes on one side, the next moment on the other.

If balance is lacking, a soul either becomes too light and detached, and forgets about the discipline; or it has too much discipline, and there is no lightness. Both attention, and concentration, of the intellect are needed to have a constant flying stage.

What else is happening when you are flying? Some students who have been practising the flying stage for a while, develop the arrogance of the flier. They start to teach others how to fly, they give advice about the flying stage, they speak about how they fly and how they can make others fly. This is called the arrogance of the flier. They forget who is making them fly.

They think 'I fly', when it is God who is making them fly. God is making everyone else fly as well. It is not their duty to make others fly, it is God's duty.

The key to removing obstacles to the flying stage is only one: 'My Father is making me fly'. Instead of flying on your own, come and fly with God. When the soul flies on their own, they can get tired. They come to the ground and Maya, the cat, can break their wings. Do not fly on your own.

Come and fly on God's wings.

God, the Supreme Angel, is taking the soul on His wings and they fly together. Everyone likes it. How easy it is...

The soul does not have to do anything, just stay seated on God's wings, and fly with Him. God's wings are big enough to take all souls with Him. Let us fly.

The Qualities of an Angel

An angel is a soul who is constantly happy, no matter what the circumstances or conditions. An angel is happy to help God in His task, to be available for whatever is needed. An angel is humble and does everything that is required. Angels serve tirelessly, day and night, with so much humility. Whatever is needed in the spiritual university, they do it. They are the ones who keep all of us going. Such true angels are seated in God's heart.

What are the qualities of an angel? Everyone loves angels, so what are their features?

First, they are always happy, no matter what happens. They are happy with themselves, and others are also happy with them. They remain content in any situation, they never complain. Have you ever seen an angel complaining? If so, that was not an angel. An angel is always happy, and others are happy with them.

Second, an angel is humble. She does not have any expectations. She does not need anything from anyone. The angel does everything in an incognito way.

Third, angels are generous hearted. They think only of giving. They do not keep anything for themselves. Whatever they have received from the angelic family, they want to give to others. They never use the word 'mine' for anything.

Fourth, an angel is tireless in helping God in His task. They use their time, thoughts, words and actions only for service. Because they do not waste anything, and they are economical with everything, their stage is stable and constant.

Fifth, they sing the praise of the Father. They are loving towards the Father and they only sing His name.

An angel is free from Maya and Ravan, the embodiment of vices. To be free from Maya and Ravan- means to be flying. This is not a small thing. Everyone enjoys freedom; none wants to be a slave.

The soul is the angel, threaded in the rosary around God's neck. This rosary is so long and beautiful, and all the angels have their place in it.

The Most Elevated Soul

The purpose of this journey is to become elevated, and so, we are now in the ascending stage. We remember the soul of Mama: she was the most elevated amongst all students. There are 12 qualifications of an elevated soul, that made Mama the most elevated.

First, an elevated soul would never bring anyone down. Mama would never speak a harsh word to anyone, she would never even think a thought about anyone, that would bring the soul down. Mama would only speak and think that which elevates others.

Second, Mama's vision was able to take a soul beyond with a glance. An elevated soul would give other souls the experience of being taken beyond, with their vision.

Third, Mama's words would uplift someone who was down. If a soul experienced upheaval in their mind, no matter how upset they were, Mama's words were such that they would uplift them immediately. Even a single word spoken by Mama was such that the soul would immediately forget all his sorrow.

Fourth, an elevated soul would make others elevated. Mama would always look after her service companions so that they also became those who could uplift others. Mama would see their specialities, so that they could become elevated souls.

Fifth, the actions of an elevated soul are as such that even just by seeing them, others would come closer to God. Mama became most elevated not through her words, but through her actions. All wanted to see her in action. They felt that even the smallest thing she was doing was so elevated.

Sixth, Mama's vision was to elevate the entire world. Most souls would aim to uplift those around them, those that they know. Mama would wake up early in the morning and have the vision of uplifting the world. Mama would remember God Shiva and think that all the souls of the world should be elevated. Mama never had limited vision.

Seven, Mama left a legacy of love. All the Dadis (elderly sisters) learnt with Mama and they have taken the legacy of love from Father Brahma and Mama. Even now all are sustained by the images of the Dadis, Father Brahma, and Mama. Mama's worthy-of-worship form is sustaining the Brahmin family.

Eight, Mama's vibrations have reached out into the world. Mama had so much love for nature, for the elements, and for the animal world. She had equal vision towards all souls of the world, no matter how they were. Mama's vibrations are elevating all souls, and nature. That is why even now, nature is serving that soul.

Nine, wherever Mama's soul is now, she is still elevating her companions. The soul plays such a role that she is elevating everyone around her, uplifting others. That is why all pay their respects to her.

Ten, Mama was made elevated by God Shiva. It was God, who gave all the teachings, and she became karmateet, free from any dependency, through those. Only a soul elevated by God, the Supreme Soul, is entitled to be called an elevated soul.

Eleven, an elevated soul is one giving water to the entire human world tree. Father Brahma and Mama are the roots of the human world tree and through them, water and nourishment reach the entire tree. They are the foundation of all elevation.

Twelve, an elevated soul sustains others through the angelic form. Even now, Mama's angelic form is sustaining us souls, guiding and teaching in the subtle region. Souls are made elevated through her angelic form.

These are the 12 qualifications of an elevated soul. Now, understand from this not that you are becoming elevated, but that you are elevated.

Captain of the Crew

There are souls that are multimillion times fortunate. They surrender everything to God. They are recognised as a 'Captain of the crew'. The captain of the crew has to stay at the prow of the ship, turn the steering wheel in the right direction, and look after the crew. If the captain is not there, upheaval on the ship is liable to follow. The captain is the one who faces the waves first, straight in their face. The soul is the captain, and the soul has God's company all the time.

God is the One who takes the boat to the destination, but the captain needs the powers to manoeuvre it. Four powers are required to reach the destination: the power of making progress, the power of self-transformation and catching power, the power of realisation, and the power of the divine intellect.

In order to make progress, the captain needs the cooperation of everyone on the ship. If souls do not cooperate, progress cannot be made, because the captain has to look after them. For instance, if the chef is sick, the entire crew will go into the kitchen to cook, and the ship will not advance. If the one who stands on the bridge is not doing their duty, the ship has to slow down, because those steering it cannot see what is in front of them. So, in order to make progress the captain must have the cooperation of the entire crew.

The power of self-transformation is required to adjust to each situation. One moment, the captain needs to face a storm and navigate the ship through the storm, so he needs determination. The next moment, he needs to calculate the trajectory for navigation, using map and compass. Then he needs to look after the crew. So, the captain has to change his mindset according to each situation. The catching power is also needed here. God is the One who is truly navigating the boat, so in order to catch God's signals, the soul has to refine his catching power, take on the signals and use them for self-transformation.

The power of realisation is also needed to reach the destination. When the ship reaches the destination, the members of the crew can experience that they have realised their potential.

However, this is not a one-way trip. The crew will reach the destination and then go back to get others. Those who reach there first will build new boats and return together to the place of departure. Once the crew has learned the way, and realised the pathway to the destination, they build new boats and bring others to the destination.

Finally, there is the power of a divine intellect. With a divine intellect the captain can see obstacles from a distance. He will remove them beforehand. With a divine intellect the captain can see ahead, into the future, as well as deep down into the ocean.

The intellect is an instrument with which to see the life that exists in the ocean, and the treasures to be found there. Using the power of the divine intellect, the soul enjoys the journey. It is a wonderful journey to enjoy whilst getting everyone to their own destination. Using a divine intellect, the soul dives deep into the ocean of experiences, and from the bottom of the ocean they bring to the surface the precious jewels of knowledge, for all to enjoy. Congratulations to the soul for being a 'Captain of the crew'.

The Lighthouse

What is a lighthouse? What is the quality of a spiritual lighthouse?

A lighthouse building is tall. The taller it is, the further its light is reaching. If it is not tall, it serves only to those who are nearby. Similarly, a soul that is a lighthouse has a broad and tall intellect. Some are midget lighthouses, some are tall lighthouses. A good intellect will spread the light very far and it will be seen by others from a large distance.

A good intellect is not enough, however. A lighthouse may have a good height, but if it does not have light, what is the use of it? An effective lighthouse has a power generator. Some generators can use the power of the water, some can even use the power of the waves that are breaking on the shore. Some may even use the power of a storm. They transform the stormy water into light. In a similar way, a soul can transform storms into a light that shines upon many others.

So, if there is a good intellect, but no light, the house cannot be called a lighthouse. For instance, a soul with an intellect which is not used for the right task, or if the intention is not right, cannot be called a lighthouse.

What is the power that creates the light? It is the power of spirituality. God, the Supreme Parent, has the highest power of spirituality. God, the Supreme Soul, is always in the consciousness of being bodiless, viceless, egoless. The power of spirituality enables a soul to be in the angelic stage in a second, to be in the incorporeal home in a second, and then to be in the awareness of the corporeal task, in a second.

The power of spirituality allows a soul to see but not see, to hear but not hear; to be unaffected by anything in this world. It is this power of spirituality that creates the light.

What else is needed for light to be there? Two poles are needed – positive and negative - and a wire, that will heat and radiate light. What are the poles? Being loving, and detached. God, the Supreme Soul, and Father Brahma, first human soul, are our examples of being both, loving and detached.

God, the Supreme Father, speaks the elevated versions of knowledge through Father Brahma and He carries out the task of establishment through him.

The wire between the two poles is the Yagya, the fire of creation. Do not think that a lighthouse means to stay just in one place, and spread the light of spirituality whilst being seated. To be a lighthouse, means to become a master creator, and light the fire of creation. God is remembered by the devotees as the Great Light. He creates the new world through light. So light, is the symbol of creation.

In a similar way, become master creators and look after the creation.

Practice: With a divine intellect, the soul is seeing the creation of heaven and sustains the light of creation through thoughts, words, and actions.

Section three

Revelation

The Ocean and the Ganges of Knowledge

The Ocean is seeing the Ganges of knowledge, the small rivers and the large rivers that are coming to meet Him. The Ocean is seeing many different aspects of these rivers. Some are large, some are small, some are fast, some are dirty, but all are coming to meet the Ocean. Some rivers carry a lot of mud and branches, some come with large waves and big force. Others are clean and pure. Some are coming down very fast, some flow slowly. Some rivers are like the Ganges, and they have many tributaries that are happy to contribute their waters to the large river. Some rivers that come to meet the Ocean are small, and flow alone. They are quick rivers that come straight into the Ocean, without any tributaries.

The Ocean was seeing what each river is bringing. Some bring flowers, and plants, and small gifts. Some are bringing ships. with many people; they are large rivers. Wherever they flow, people are using their waters to irrigate the lands. Some large rivers are coming out of their channel and flood the land, and so, they can create upheaval. Some rivers are so large that they are channels for navigation. However, when all the rivers reach the ocean, all the waters become one with the ocean. One can no longer say which water came from which river, and how did they get there, what was their history. Now, all are merged into the ocean.

The Ocean of knowledge is seeing all these aspects of the spiritual rivers. The Ganges of knowledge are giving life to the earth, they are so precious. You cannot say that one river is more valuable than another. Each flows through a certain area, and is the most precious for that area. For each area, that river is so valuable. One cannot compare any two rivers. The Ocean is seeing each one as being equally important and precious.

Do not compare yourself with any other river. Do not look at any other river, just look at your own flow. Enjoy your flow, enjoy how you are coming down to the ocean. Can you do that?

Enjoy your journey to the Ocean. Never compare yourself to anyone else, because it is not possible to compare any two rivers. They all are equally important. The Ocean does not say that one river is better than another, or larger than another. No.

When they all come to meet the Ocean, they all merge into the Ocean. They are no longer number one, number two, number five, they all are one. Should the Ocean say that this is river number one, river number two, and so on? No, all are merging into the ocean, and everything they have brought is now mixed. All is put together. They are all together now.

Enjoy your journey. You, the souls, are the Ganges of knowledge.

Transform the Rivers of Knowledge into a Current

Now, the task for the rivers is to build a dam. Build a dam on all the rivers, at the point where they meet with the ocean, at their confluence with the Ocean.

Build the dam and accumulate the water in the lake. Build the dam: stop what you are doing, and accumulate the water. Just stop from whatever the soul is doing, and accumulate the water. When the water reaches a high level, it will fall automatically and it will release a great power.

When the water accumulates to a certain level, it will fall down naturally and it will create the power. It will release the energy. It will create the spark of electricity. The power of the water will change into electricity, the spark of fire. Now, the soul has to transform the power of water into the spark of fire, into electricity. The souls have been until now the Ganges of knowledge.

Now, the souls have to transform the water into electricity. Release this power of water into a current. Create this current. The power of the current is greater than the power of the water. Now, you have to change from the Ganges of knowledge into the current. Water is slow, and it gets delayed, water can get muddy and spread everywhere and it does not reach the destination. The current is very fast. A current can reach anywhere in a second. This current is unstoppable. It will reach every human soul. It cannot be stopped. It will reach the scientists, the religious souls, it will reach all humans souls. Not a single one will remain untouched by this current. The water has to reach a certain level and then the fall of the water will naturally create the current.

You do not have to worry whether there will be enough for all. This current will be unlimited, it will reach everywhere without effort. It will be unstoppable. Build the dam now.

The Flying Book

Souls are like flying books. This is a new title for the souls: the living, open books, who are reaching out, everywhere. People enjoy reading a book, and you, the souls, are the living books.

Why are the souls flying books? First, angels are shown with wings, flying. The souls, the living books, can get anywhere. The souls do not stay in one place only, they can reach anywhere in just a second. Wherever people are, the soul can reach there and those people can read the living book. Second, when you are flying you can see the bigger picture. The soul is writing its own book, whilst being in the flying stage. It is one thing to write whilst you are down below, and another thing to write when you are flying up there in the sky. One can see differently. These souls are up here in the sky, and write their book from here.

What is the soul writing in the book? Everyone loves to hear a story. They want to hear your life story. The soul is writing in the book their life story. The past, the present and the future is written in the book. What is the past? The souls were the great kings and queens, the maharaja and the maharani (emperor and empress). What is the soul now, at the present? You are the Pandavas, the guides. And what are you going to be in the future? You will be the angels who save humanity from all sorrow. The soul is writing about all of these in the book.

What remains to be done? The soul can write in the book that Ravan, the embodiment of vices, is finished. Can you write that, or are you still writing that Ravan is alive and you are battling with him?

The soul can write that Ravan has died, he is finished. You are the author of the book, are you not? Can a character in a book do what it likes? It is the author of the book who writes what is happening in the story. The soul writes that Ravan is dead, burnt, and that is the end of it. This is your book, is it not?

With what ink is the soul writing? The soul has to write its own book. Even God's love cannot write your book. Can God's love and your love, together, write the book? Does the soul have that much love? Or is it that the love will finish, and the ink will not be enough to write the whole story? This ink has to be enough. The ink is the attention. When the soul has attention to the body, it writes about body consciousness. When the attention is on the soul, then it writes about soul consciousness. Now, pay attention that the soul is awake.

On what paper does the soul write the story? Nowadays, everything is written on the computer. What if the electricity is off? Write in such a way that it never goes off. What paper has been used until now? It is the paper on which the progress of your spiritual endeavour has been recorded, from the beginning until now. That paper has the thoughts and the words that the soul had for this knowledge from the beginning until now. That paper is not clean, is it? However, let us use a special new, paper, the paper of angelic awareness.

Now, with the pen of the intellect, with the ink of attention, on the paper of the angelic consciousness, write that Ravan is finished, he has died, it is the end of it. Do not resurrect him again. You remember that you have written this. Congratulations.

The Balls of Fire of Yoga

The soul can take the form of a ball of fire. This is the fire of yoga. In a yoga bhakti, the form of the soul is changing into one that appears like a ball of fire, the fire of yoga. Is the fire powerful, or is it weak? Check - what do I want: to increase the intensity of the fire, or to keep the fire burning slowly?

If there is no strength in the fire of yoga, why is that? What is the solution? The answer is one word. What is that one word? 'My Baba' (My God). The one word for the fire of yoga is 'My Baba'. Instead of that, souls say 'My brother, my father, my uncle, my friend'. We have all these relationships. Instead of having only one 'My Baba' in the mind, the soul thinks of everyone else.

Why is that? The soul has all relationships with 'My Baba', but it does not put these relationships into practice. The lips say 'My Baba', but in the actions, the soul puts everyone else first. Everyone else comes first, and God comes last. We may not like this - so why does it happen?

This yoga bhakti is to burn all traces of vices, but traces still exist. Which is the main vice that has not been removed yet? Ego. Ego is the main vice that has not been removed yet. Why has this vice not yet been removed?

The reason why this vice is still present is that souls are creating new ego.

We have dropped lust and anger and greed, but we are still creating new ego. Ego cannot die because we are recreating it constantly. I say 'I have done very good service', 'I can give the best advice', 'My yoga is very good', 'I revise the murli well', 'I should be consulted because I give good solutions'. The souls are constantly creating new ego, and that is why this vice does not die.

The soul can remove ego by removing the bondage of karma. It is not 'I did it', but 'the Father did it'. Can the soul think it has done something? Soul is not doing anything, God is doing. Understanding that it is the Father who is doing all the service, we are not entitled to say 'I did it'. We can drop this bondage of karma. It is the Father that gets it done.

Practice. For one minute, have in the mind only the one awareness of 'My Father'. Repeat this hourly.

The Snowdrops

White snowdrops are an image announcing the beginning of spring. These flowers are in the shape of a bell, that announces the eternal spring. They are the first flowers that appear after the winter ends. These flowers are the first ones to announce that the winter has finished and the spring is about to start. They are so beautiful and full of joy.

Some souls are like the snowdrops, the bells that announce the eternal spring. This is not the limited spring season, this is the eternal spring. They announce the golden aged spring. They are the bells who announce the beginning of Satyuga, the Age of Truth. They are the ones full of zeal and enthusiasm. They are very pure and clean. Even though they are small, they are loved by all the other flowers. Even the big roses love them. Even big flowers come after them in the spring. The snowdrops are the ones who emerge first in the season.

Such souls sometimes wonder whether they will come at the beginning of Satyuga, the Age of Truth.

These souls are the bells that announce the spring; they will be there first! They cannot miss out on the beginning. These souls are announcing Satyuga to everyone. They cannot not be there from the beginning. These souls are snowdrops of the spring, beautiful, clean and pure.

The Darshania

There are souls who are the maharathis (great charioteers) in God's army. They are mahavirs (great courage), commanders in His army. There are three types of maharathis, great charioteers in the army.

One type are the maharathis who are very stable and powerful, but they sometimes come down from their throne. They are stable when they are on the throne; and for one reason or another they come down from the throne.

The second type are those who are ever ready. They are standing, waiting for the Father to give the signal to go home. They are sometimes impatient, asking, when are we going home? They lose their patience a bit, they are ready to go home, and want to go home.

The third type of mahavir children are the souls who have no heaviness, they are so light. They are the Darshania souls. They have become the embodiment of the perfect and complete form, and they show darshania (an image worthy of great love and regard) to the world. They are the Father's angels. These children are loved the most by the Father. The Father appreciates and values them the most. They are completely light, and they are visible to the world. They are the children who reveal the Father to the world through their lightness. Everyone can see their perfect form. Even though they may not be visible here (on this stage), the world can see them. They are loved by all and everyone wants to see them. They are the souls that become the kings. These children are most dear to the Father. All types of maharathis are good, and all are needed, but the darshania souls are the ones that are perfect in their angelic form.

The World Mother

You, the souls, are the mothers of the world. The mothers are the ones who are keeping the light on for the entire world. They are watching the light day and night so that it does not go off. There is a story about a mother whose child was sick, and she stayed awake all night to watch the light. She believed that if the light did not go off, the child would survive.

These souls are the mothers of the world, the ones keeping the light on in the world so that the darkness cannot grow. They are bringing the light into the whole world.

The Highest on High Mother is God. However, what could God do without the human souls? The souls that are the mothers are the ones who are doing everything. God is the Mother, and Father Brahma is a mother. Both are always together, their love is for all human souls.

Mother Shiva, God, has the whole world in her intellect. She knows all the souls in the family, she knows the three worlds, and she knows the beginning, the middle and the end of the cycle.

God plays the role of a Mother when the souls are sick and troubled. When the body is ill, God is always there to help.

God plays the role of the Mother when protecting the children. In the history of this Spiritual University, God always looked after the souls and their bodies, there was always enough for the livelihood of each one of them.

God plays the role of the Mother when making the souls sleep in Her lap, singing them a lullaby, and then waking them up in the morning.

Souls here are the mothers of the world. They are the ones who reveal the Father to the world. Both mother and father are required. You cannot have one without the other. Come together, create a plan, reveal the Father to the entire world. Create a big poster and write in all the languages:

God, the Mother of the World, is here.

Sometimes, mothers like to spread rumours. Spread this rumour now, in such a way that it reaches out to all the souls. "The Mother of the World is here". All souls should wonder, what is this all about?

This Supreme Mother of the World can fulfil any desires that they have. Let souls ask anything from the Supreme Mother. Let them ask for any treasures, let them ask for jewels, for health, for good family. Let them ask for anything from the Mother. God will fulfil all their desires. We can give this message to the world.

The Mother of the World is here to fulfil all the desires.

Building Bridges

Souls from everywhere have now come to the Father for the first time. Such souls have been wandering on the path of devotion for a long time and they have now found God. Souls who have been searching for a long time in other religions, now have arrived here. They have recognised God and they belong to Him. Because they have been practising many types of devotion for a long period of time, they are experienced in the customs and the systems of that traditions. They are now becoming the helpers of the Father in His task.

Because those souls have been searching for the Father in other religions they know their traditions and they are able to build a bridge between knowledge and the path of devotion. They are souls who can build a bridge between the Godly teachings and other religions.

These souls are experienced in the ways and means of that religion and they have the ability to build the bridge. They are the ones to create the foundation of the bridge and they become this foundation. There is so much happiness in seeing these souls.

Because they have been involved in a religion for a long period of time, they know how deep the pillars of the bridge must be. If a bridge does not have the right pillars it cannot be built. Those souls know how deep the water is and how tall the pillars must be created. If the pillars are too short than the bridge will be under the water, and if the pillars are too tall, the bridge will not be stable. These souls know how vast is the difference between God's knowledge and the path of devotion and they build the pillars accordingly. They are capable of going deeply into the knowledge to fully understand the differences, and to adjust accordingly.

They know where to place the pillars and how to place them. If someone does not know where to place the pillars or how to build them, the bridge will crash. Those souls know exactly where the pillars have to be placed and what is the method for doing that.

They also know the material that is necessary to build the bridge. If the material is not right, then the bridge will not be sustained. If the material is too heavy, the bridge will crash. If the material is too light, then the traffic will not be supported. Those souls know what is the right material to build the bridge. The material to build the bridge is the method for sharing God's knowledge. They know which method is most appropriate for that path of devotion. For some souls one method for remembrance may be appropriate, for others, another method for yoga. For some souls, it may be appropriate to use the method of giving powerful rays of the light of truth and serve them through vibrations. For some souls, it may be good to offer meditation based on virtues and the practice of virtues and powers. Some souls will have to learn something new through the meditation practice. For others, it is good to receive points of knowledge. For some, they would receive points to imbibe into their behaviour. These souls, who are now God's children, fully involved in His task, know what method to use. They know what material to use to build the bridges.

Finally, they know how to put together the different parts of the bridge. If the parts of the bridge do not click together then the bridge will not stand. The bridge starts from two ends and when the two sides meet in the middle, if the pieces do not click, because there is a distance or a difference in the height of the parts, the whole work is in vain. These souls know how to put together the components of the bridge. How to liaise the parts and how to click them together. For some time, you have been building from your end. Now, these souls, who are Godly students, know how to come from the other end and meet you in the middle.

God is happy to see those who have become His helpers. They are helping in building the bridges. Now, let us build the bridge. There will be a big inauguration when the bridge is ready. There will be so much happiness with this bridge. There will be so much traffic on the bridge. Souls who have never come in touch with the knowledge, will now find their destination by walking on the bridge. There will be nothing to stop them from reaching their destination. Those souls who did not have the courage to go to the other end will now be able to reach there. The bridge will be so beautifully decorated. There will be so many lights so that every soul can enjoy full light whilst walking across. This bridge is inaugurated by the Father.

He will call it the Bridge of Happiness.

Congratulations for building the bridge.

The Crown

Souls who have been working from their heart, a lot in God's task, are mostly loved. They receive many, many, congratulations for giving help from their hearts.

On the forehead of each soul it is visible a beautiful crown. Each one is wearing the most beautiful crown decorated with 8 jewels. Each jewel is very beautiful and it is sparkling in the most beautiful colours. Each crown of these souls is more beautiful than the crowns of the wealthiest kings of the world. In this world, on the coronation day, they wear a crown made of physical stones. The crowns that souls are wearing are more beautiful and brighter than the world's coronation crown. Each of the 8 jewels on this crown is more precious than the physical jewels.

The first jewel of the crown, on the centre of the crown, above the forehead, is the diamond of the home. It is of a red colour and it is the largest and brightest of the jewels in the crown. It is the diamond of the eternal home. All souls belong to the highest on high home, the purest home. This pure home is higher than any royal house. Purity means nobility. In this world, each one is proud of the house where they belong to. Here, souls belong to the purest house of all, the most royal house of all. There is no house in this world that is more royal than soul world. This red large diamond is the sign of the home.

The second jewel is of a blue colour and it is the diamond of the soul being a ruler at the beginning of the cycle. This is the jewel of being a king and a sovereign of the golden age. For each soul, this jewel is larger or smaller, depending on how large their kingdom was and when they ruled in the cycle. For some souls, this diamond is large, for some is small, but all souls have this blue diamond as a decoration of their crown, as being a sovereign at the beginning of the cycle.

The third diamond is of a yellow colour, it is the diamond of the heart. This is the diamond of how much each soul loves the Father, the task and the university. Each one has so much love for the Father and for the university, so each diamond sparkles in the most beautiful colours. Each of these diamonds decorates so beautifully the crowns of the souls.

The fourth diamond is of a green colour, and it is the diamond of service. How much service each soul has been doing from the beginning until now. How much each one was engaged in service in an uninterrupted way. This is the diamond where the most differences are seen in the crown of each soul. For some souls it is very big, for others it is really small. Some of these diamonds are so large and bright that they shine light over the crowns of other souls. They shine light to a large distance, because the souls have been engaged in service from the beginning in an uninterrupted way. This is the diamond of service.

The fifth diamond is that of humility. Father Brahma has been teaching us to do everything in an incorporeal, viceless, egoless stage. Wherever there is a large diamond for service, that has to be accompanied by the decoration of humility. This is the purest jewel and it is of a white colour, transparent and translucent. It is not large, it is small, because a stone that is very precious, does not have to be large, for it has the essence of the most precious thing in it. In the same way, the jewel of humility is small and it is the most beautiful. It is humility, sincerity and honesty that make this jewel decorate the crown so beautifully. Without it, the crown would not be complete and perfect.

The sixth diamond is the diamond of your companions. This is a diamond of orange colour of your relationships with the service companions. These are not the relationships with students or seniors. These are the relationships with peers, those who are equal to you. They are the souls that will rule with you in the future kingdom. God is seeing that the majority do not have a very clear jewel of these relationships. For very few it is a large diamond, but for the majority, these relationships are not so clear. The majority have just a few relationships, and only a few have many such relationships and their diamond is big and sparkling.

We all want to know which are the last two diamonds.

The seventh diamond is that of the sustenance given by Father Shiva and mother Brahma to each one of us. Each soul has received sustenance from God Shiva and Father Brahma. None has been missing out on this. Whether it was sustenance through the corporeal form or through the angelic form, each one has received it. This is a diamond of the pure love that God and Father Brahma have for the souls. How much love they have for us and how much they have been sustaining us. All souls have received this sustenance and each one has increased it numberwise. Each soul has given a different value to it, appreciate it and use it. Each soul is numberwise in how much value they have given to the sustenance that they have received. Some used it a lot, some applied it and valued it, some have used it less.

The eighth jewel is that of victory. This is the jewel of being victorious every cycle and each soul is wearing this jewel most beautifully in their crown. This jewel is so pure and sparkling, even though you have been victorious again and again in every cycle, this diamond is so fresh and new. It is seated next to the first diamond, of the red colour. The first diamond of the home is next to the last jewel of victory, and that makes it so beautiful, that you are flying back home, victorious, each cycle.

God is seeing the crown of each soul. Each and every student of this university is wearing, so beautifully, the crown. Now, we can wear this crown continually. Never take it off. Keep it on at all times. Father Brahma has been decorating the souls and we are also decorating ourselves. Therefore, we can wear this crown all the time. When we wear this crown all the time, the souls are revealed to the world, and the Father is revealed to the world through them.

Practice: When seeing another human being, pay attention to the crown of the soul. Observe the beauty of each one's crown, its uniqueness. See how God is seeing the crown of this soul, accept and wear your crown with the highest dignity.

Being a support for each other

God, the Supreme Father, is here for the souls, in order to support them. He is seeing each soul as being the most precious jewel. The Father does not look at the differences between the jewels. He does not see that one jewel is small and another is big, or that one is brighter than another. The Father is loving to all souls, equally. He appreciates all souls, equally. He sees all souls as the most precious diamonds. He sees the red rubies, and the blue amethysts, and the green emeralds, and the small pearls. The Father even sees those small stones made of coloured glass, and He loves them equally. Souls that come in front of God, are the precious jewels that have God's love and attention, they are all together, the jewels of the crown.

However, now, all those souls are supporting together the crown. Until now, souls were placed on the crown, decorating the crown so beautifully. Now, they are supporting the crown. They are all placed in a mountain of jewels, at the top of which there is a crown. All the souls together are supporting the crown. Do we like this? Until now souls were visible on the crown, but they are now supporting it.

When a jewel is placed on a crown, someone can ask which position they will have on the crown? Which jewel is placed at the top, which one is placed at the front, which one is higher, which one is lower, which one is bigger, which one is more visible?

That is why, now souls are not placed on the crown, but all together, are supporting the crown. A mountain of sparkling jewels that creates the support. In this, the position of each one does not longer matter. It does not matter whether someone is at the bottom and someone is at the top. There are no differences between them, it is as if, all together are offering a support as one. Those who are at the foundation are enjoying it so much, because they can support everyone else. Those who are in the middle position they enjoy it also. Those who are at the top they enjoy it so much because they are above. Each one is enjoying it so much, and it does not matter the size of the jewel or their brightness. The small one can be in the foundation, or at the top, it does not matter. All are contributing in the same way.

God, the Supreme Soul, has placed all these souls to support the crown. Whose crown is this? Why are we supporting it? This is not a worldly crown, of any king. This is an unearthly crown. However, it is not the crown of an angel. God does not wear a crown either.

Those souls who are supporting the crown, have the power to decide what do with it. Do you have this power? All are supporting it, so you can do something with it, is it not?

What are you doing with the crown? Souls have the the power to decide. Come together and think what you will do with this crown. What do you think that we should do with it? Let us come up with ideas on what to do with the crown.

Practice: See the crown of light of each soul and support them in wearing the crown of purity and the crown of responsibility in God's task. The soul supports others in revealing their perfect form.

Number One Leaders

Such times are coming, when we can no longer belong to one party or one country, only. We can no longer be the leaders of one government, one state, one city, saying: "this is my government, this is my party, this is my country, this is my religion". We now have to belong to the entire world.

We can become the servants of the world, instead of the rulers of a country. From being concerned on how to lead a government, we shift the vision to being the servants of the entire world. The whole world belongs to us. It belongs to us to serve the world, and not to take from the world. Now, we can finish our limited interests and belong to a larger, global vision of service only. We quickly have to come out of all our limitations, because very soon, we will see big changes happening in the world. This is the time to break through. Those who will be number one in removing the final strings of attachments will become number one in helping the whole world to go through these changes.

Om Shanti
