

All blessings are your birthright.

BapDada is pleased to see the meeting of the Father and the children. From the copper age onwards, all the meetings that take place in a special form take place on the banks of one or another river and in the presence of one or another deity idol. It is only Shiv Ratri that is celebrated in memory of the Father. However, they don't have His introduction. The meetings of the copper age are of devotees and deity idols, but this is the meeting of the Father and the children on the banks of the great river and the Ocean. Such a meeting cannot take place at any other time throughout the whole cycle. You witness a double meeting in Madhuban. One is the meeting of Bap and Dada, the Ocean and the great river, and the other one is the meeting of BapDada and the children. You have already celebrated this meeting. These meetings will continue to expand. You continue to serve so that there can be growth. Therefore, there will be growth and the meetings have to be celebrated.

Bap and Dada were having a heart-to-heart conversation between themselves. Brahma said that the number of Brahmins would continue to grow until the end of the sacrificial fire. However, along with the expansion, the method of celebrating a meeting in the corporeal form in the corporeal world will have to change, will it not? There is a difference between using something that you have taken on loan and something that belongs to you. You can use your own belongings however you want, whereas this corporeal body of the final birth has been taken on loan. You have to consider the method of using something old that has been taken on loan. Father Shiva smiled and said: According to the growth, the three methods of meeting in three relationships will definitely be transformed. What will these be?

From the form of the Father, your special right is the special toli of a meeting. From the Teacher, you receive the murli. From the Satguru, you are taken beyond with a glance, that is, with the drishti filled with spiritual love of the avyakt meeting. The welcome and the meeting will continue to take place in this way for the children who are yet to come. Everyone has the thought of receiving a blessing. BapDada says: Since you are children of the Bestower of Blessings, all blessings are your birthright. Not just now, but at the very moment you were born, the Bestower of Blessings gave you blessings. The Bestower of Fortune fixed the imperishable line of fortune in your horoscope. In worldly life too, they write a horoscope chart before the naming ceremony. The Father, the Bestower of Fortune and the Bestower of Blessings, and Mother Brahma drew your line of all blessings and imperishable fortune the moment you were born. Before you were named Brahma Kumars and Kumaris, they created the chart of your horoscope. You are blessed for all time. Children who are embodiments of remembrance are always those who have attained all blessings. You are the children who are embodiments of remembrance. Are you lacking anything that you still have to attain? Bap and Dada had such a heart-to-heart conversation. Why has this hall been built? So that three to four thousand Brahmins can come and so that these meetings can keep expanding. Therefore, keep growing a lot more! Is Baba not talking to you when He speaks the murli? Yes, Baba's vision should fall on you. All of these things will be fulfilled.

Now, there has to be a queue up from Abu. There has to be that much growth. Or, do you think that just the few of you are enough? Servers constantly renounce everything for themselves and are happy serving others. Mothers are experienced in service. You would even renounce your own sleep and cradle your child in your lap. So, through the growth that you help to bring about, you will enable those who are to come to receive their share, will you not? Achcha.

This time, BapDada has finished all the complaints of the children of Bharat. As long as the body that is taken on loan can be an instrument, Baba will continue to answer everyone's complaints. Achcha.

To all those who experience spiritual love and a spiritual meeting, to the imperishable, elevated, fortunate souls who are filled with blessings at the moment of their birth, to such great renunciates who attain fortune through renunciation, to such multimillionfold fortunate children, to the children from everywhere who are thirsty for love, BapDada's love, remembrance and namaste.

Avyakt BapDada's invaluable versions for the mothers: (07/04/83)

BapDada is especially saying a few words to the double servers who are special instruments, to the loving mothers. So, constantly keep your gift of the Father's teachings with you.

Always have the awareness of being subtle even whilst in the world. Always have the awareness of being a server. Always have the awareness of being a trustee. Have spiritual love and feelings of benevolence for everyone, and good wishes to make them elevated. Just as you look at and speak to many souls with the vision of serving them, in the same way, continue to interact with instrument souls of your worldly family too. Do not become limited in the sense of: My child and my husband should benefit. Let there be benefit for everyone. When there is the consciousness of "mine" you are unable to give soul conscious and benevolent drishti to them. The desire that the majority of you place in front of BapDada is that your child should change or that your husband should co-operate or that family members should become your companions. However, why do you have this desire and only consider those souls as belonging to you? Because of this wall of limitation, your good and benevolent wishes don't reach those souls. This is why, although your thoughts may be good, if the method is not accurate, how could there be any results? This is why this complaint continues. By constantly maintaining soul-conscious vision and having an attitude of a brotherly relationship, you definitely receive the fruit of your having good wishes for any soul. So, don't get tired of making effort. Don't get disheartened by thinking that you have made a lot of effort but that person is not going to change. Let your intellect have faith, be detached from the consciousness of "mine" in relationships and keep moving. Some souls take time to settle their karmic accounts of devotion and claim their Godly inheritance. Therefore, have patience, remain stable on the seat of a detached observer and don't get disheartened. Continue to give souls the co-operation of peace and power. The importance of double-server, trustee children who remain stable in such a stage and have spiritual feelings for this worldly family is very great. Know your own importance! So, what two titles will you remember?

A conqueror of attachment and an embodiment of remembrance for your unlimited relations. Secondly, "I belong to the Father and He is my constant Companion." You have to fulfil all relationships with the Father. You will be able to remember this, will you not? Simply remember these two things especially. All of you Shaktis and Pandavas should think that BapDada is speaking to each one of you personally. All of you must think about what Baba has said to you personally. Whilst in the gathering, BapDada is speaking especially to all the householders personally. Baba is speaking privately in public. Do you understand? He is giving each child more love than the next. This is why you come, is it not? So that you receive love and gifts! You become refreshed through this, do you not? The Ocean of Love is giving each loving soul a mine of love that will never end. Is there anything else left to be done? Meeting, speaking and receiving - this is all you want, is it not? Achcha.

To those who are detached from all limited relations, to those who are constantly worthy of God's love, to the conquerors of attachment, to those who are embodiments of the awareness of world benefit, to the victorious ones whose intellects constantly have faith, to those who remain unshakeable and beyond any upheaval, to such elevated souls, BapDada's love, remembrance and namaste.

BapDada meeting different groups:

1) Do you constantly experience yourselves to be Father's companions? Someone whose Companion is always the Almighty Authority Father has all attainments. No type of Maya can ever come in front of him. He has bidden farewell to Maya. You don't offer Maya hospitality, do you? Those who bid farewell to Maya receive congratulations from the Father at every step. If you have not yet bidden her farewell, you will have to cry out in distress over and over again: What should I do? How should I do this? Therefore, always be those who have bidden farewell and thereby receive congratulations. You are such ones with the fortune of happiness, are you not? Your every step is with the Father. So, congratulations are also for you. Always maintain the happiness that God Himself is congratulating you souls. You have attained what you never even thought of. You have attained the Father and so you have attained everything. You have become embodiments of all attainments. Constantly remember this fortune.

2) Do all of you remain absorbed in love for the one Father? Just as you become merged in the ocean, in the same way, you remain merged in the Father's love. Those who are constantly absorbed in love are unaware of anything of the world. Because of being totally absorbed in love, they are easily able to go beyond everything. They don't have to make effort. It is said of devotees: They are always lost in their devotion. However, for the children, it is said: You are always absorbed in love. You don't have any awareness of the world. The consciousness of "mine" in terms of "My home, my children and my possessions" all end. When the one Father is "mine", the consciousness of all other "mines" end. The consciousness of "Mine" for anything else makes you dirty. When you say, "The Father is mine", all other "mines" end.

3) Baba has deep love for every child. Whether you are poor or wealthy, educated or uneducated, all of you are the most elevated of all. Each one of you is more loved than the next. For the Father, all of you are special souls. What speciality do all of you have? You have the speciality of knowing the Father. The One whom the great rishis and munis did not know, you now know and have attained. Those poor people went away saying "We do not know, we do not know!" You now know everything. BapDada gives love and remembrance to such special souls every day. He celebrates a meeting with you every day. The time of amrit vela is especially for the children. The queue of devotees comes later. First, there is the line of you children. The time for meeting special souls would definitely be special too. Therefore, constantly consider yourselves to be such special souls and continue to fly in happiness.

4) Brahmin children can find a medicine for their own illnesses. The nourishment of happiness is a medicine that works in a second. Just as those people give a powerful injection that instantly brings about a change, so too, when Brahmins give themselves a tablet of happiness, they inject happiness into themselves. All of you have this stock, do you not? You have to make your body function on the basis of knowledge. The light and might of knowledge helps a great deal. An illness that comes is a means of taking rest. BapDada invites you to come to the subtle region for two days to play the game of the divine activities of Ashta (eight special jewels). Then, there won't be any need for a doctor. In the beginning, the trance messengers used to stay in the subtle region for one or two days. In the same way, when anything happens, just come to the subtle region. BapDada will take you on a tour in the subtle region to the devotees in London and America. He will take you on a tour of the world. So, whenever an illness comes, just think that an invitation has come to visit the subtle region and that it is not an illness.

Question: What is the speciality of an easy yogi life?

Answer: A yogi life is a life of constant happiness. Those who are easy yogis constantly swing in the swings of happiness. When the Father, the Bestower of Happiness, belongs to you, there is nothing but happiness. So, continue to swing in the swings of happiness. You have found the Father, the Bestower of Happiness, your life has become one of happiness, you have found the world of happiness. These are the specialities of a yogi life in which there is no name or trace of sorrow.

Question: On what basis should elderly and uneducated children do service?

Answer: On the basis of their experience. Tell everyone stories of your experience. Just as a nanny or grandma tells stories to all the children in the family, in the same way, tell stories of your experiences. Just talk about what you have found and what you have attained. This service that each one of you can do is the greatest service of all. Keep constantly busy in remembrance and service. This is carrying out a task that is equal to that of the Father.

Blessing: May you be an easy effort-maker and make the specialty of your Brahmin birth your natural nature.

When someone is born in a royal family, he or she brings into his or her awareness again and again, "I am a prince/princess". Their actions may still be ordinary due to some interest, but they do not forget the speciality of their birth. Similarly, the Brahmin birth is a special birth. So, your birth is elevated, your religion (dharma) is elevated and your actions (karma) are elevated. Let the greatness, that is, the speciality of this life stay in your awareness in a natural way and you will become an easy effort-maker. Souls with a special life can never perform ordinary actions.

Slogan: In order to remain double light, become a conqueror of obstacles. * * O M S H A N T I * *
